

My Footprints

When I was just a baby,
My footprints were really small.

I could not walk anywhere.
You carried me proud and tall.

Now that I am bigger,
My footprints are big, too.

I can run, walk, gallop, skip;

But I still need you.

I need your guidance and your love

To keep my footprints placed

On paths where I will learn what's right

And seek God's love and grace.

Some day when I grow up,

I hope you will look back

To think of times when I was small

And be proud of my feet's path.
